

ISAIAH LEE

The Faith-Based Artist

BUILDING AFTER HOURS

Isaiah Lee is a faith-based artist and motivational voice based in Newark, Delaware. He began his music journey at 15, inspired by his environment and a calling to use music as a tool to uplift, edify, and lead people back to God through real-life testimony and truth.

Isaiah's music blends faith, perseverance, and purpose—creating a sound that speaks to those navigating life's storms while holding onto God's promises.

He released his first project "Get Outta My Lane," followed by multiple mixtapes and EPs that reflect his growth, transformation, and spiritual journey.

Through his music and message, Isaiah has performed across the Tri-State area, including colleges, churches, and community spaces—impacting lives with a message rooted in faith, discipline, and obedience.

WHAT FAITHFULLY BUILDING MEANS

BUILDING AFTER HOURS

Faithfully Building is more than a name—it's a lifestyle. It means staying committed to God's blueprint even when no one is watching. It's the work you put in after the world clocks out—building your character, your purpose, and your legacy.

We're all under construction.
We build after hours.
